

TEKO CO₂ Compound System

The titan in sound proofing among compound systems

The TEKO ROXSTAcube CO₂ compound system is compact, robust and space saving (base frame = size of a EURO pallet). The various sizes are available with medium to high sound proofing for indoor or outdoor installation. The natural refrigerant CO₂ makes this system ready for the future and can be considered an important positive contribution to environmental protection.

- + Excellent sound proofing.
- + Flexible installation and space-saving design.
- + Sustainability thanks to future-proof refrigerant CO₂.
- + Waste-heat recovery for optional heating of the salesroom.
- + Standardised and cost-effective.
